

Tamara Lorincz is a long-time member of the Nova Scotia Voice of Women for Peace and the Halifax Peace Coalition. She is also on the national board of the Canadian Voice of Women and on the international advisory committee of the Global Network Against Nuclear Power and Weapons in Space with Dr. Helen Caldicott.

Tamara has organized many peace campaigns and events. She also writes frequently on foreign and defence policy issues.

In 2003, Tamara graduated with a combined Masters of Business and Law degree from Dalhousie University. In 2005, she was the co-recipient of the International Keep Space for Peace award in New York. Tamara was most recently employed as the Executive Director of the Nova Scotia Environmental Network.

She is very active in the community working on peace, environmental, social justice, and children's initiatives. She is married and has two little boys.